I have with pleasure and with the assistance of many members of the family added to the memoranda of names collected by Wm. B. Hollingsworth of Baltimore and printed in 1884, corrected some errors, and no doubt made others. Corrections and additions will be appreciated.

There are thousands of the descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr., not included, because I did not have their addresses.

It is to be hoped that some member of the family will, some day, write a "History of the Hollingsworths," as many of them have helped to make history in the United States since 1682.

HOLLINGSWORTH HALL

THE Hollingsworths have held their own all along the ages. They were an old Saxon family said to have settled in the North-eastern part of Cheshire, as early as 1022, in which year the ancestral estate, Hollingsworth Manor, in Cheshire, was purchased. The name represents a locality, from the estate of that name, near Mottram, in the county in question. The name comes from the two words, "holly" and "worth," a farm, meaning a farm of holly trees. Annals dating from the Norman conquest, speak of "the hundred of Macclesfield or Maxfield," known in the Domesday survey as "the hundred of Hamstan," and one of the Manors mentioned in these ancient books is that of Hollingsworth Manor, situated on the edge of the great woods of Macclesfield. The visitation of Cheshire by the official herald in the year 1580 includes "John Hollingsworth, Gent," and "Robert Hollingsworth," among the gentry residing in the hundred of Macclesfield." A further record speaks of Robert Hollingsworth of Hollingsworth Hall, from whom the family is descended, and who was Magistrate for the counties of Chester and Lancaster. The church of the family and the hall, both several centuries old, are still standing, and upon both are emblazoned the family Coat of Arms. The late owner, Captain Robert Hollingsworth, the last representative of the English branch of the family, died in 1865. The estate is said to include 625 acres and to be valued at 20,000 pounds. Picturesque red-berried holly trees abound upon the estate, and when one realizes its nearness to the edge of the Macclesfield woods, the arms and crest handed down for generations acquire a picturesque significance. The tinctures of the shield are azure, suggestive of the blue sky, argent, of the silvery streams that flow through the woodlands, and vert, of the green leafage of the forest trees. The virtues of these colors are equally beautiful, expressing loyalty, innocence and love. The Crest is a stag, recalling the Saxon Earls of Cheshire and merry hunting scenes, and three glistening holly leaves suggest Christmas in merry England. Motto—Learn to suffer what must be borne, or, bear patiently what must be borne. The usurpation of that Saxon shire by the Norman Earl, Hugh Lupus, no doubt suggested the motto. At any rate the records state that these freemen of Hollingsworth and the seven other manors that make up Macclesfield, paid their yearly tax to the usurping earl and held their manors in undisturbed possession.

It is probable that the Hollingsworths went over to Ireland from England with other planters, early in the 17th century.

The name Hollingsworth, so widely known and honored in the United States, is spelled severally: Hollingworth, Hollonsworth, and Hollingsworth. The last spelling has been clung to by a large majority of the descendants of the founder of the family in America, who was Valentine Hollingsworth and who came to the New World from Ireland, in 1682, the year in which William Penn arrived in the Delaware, in front of which is now the city of Philadelphia, Pa. The Hollingsworth family was noted for its enterprise and industry, and many of its members were largely engaged in the manufacture of flour, and were the owners of a number of mills on the branches of the Elbe River in Cecil Co., Md., New Castle Co., Del., also in Virginia, South Carolina, and in other states, and later of shipyards, steel mills, etc.

* * * * *

The family flower or tree is the holly tree. In Kentucky and neighboring States, the holly should be transplanted in the month of August.

VALENTINE HOLLINGSWORTH, SR.

THE original immigrant ancestor of the American family of Hollingsworth was a member of the Society of Friends, and many of his descendants adhere to that faith. He was the son of Henry Hollingsworth of Belleniskcrannel, Parish of Legoe, County Armagh, Ireland, and of Catherine, his wife, was born at Belleniskcrannel "about the year 1632," and was married April 7, 1655, to Ann Ree, daughter of Nicholas Ree of Tanderagee, County Armagh. She was born about 1628, at Tanderagee, and died February 1, 1671. He then married, April 12, 1672, Ann Calvert, daughter of Thomas Calvert, of Dromgora, Parish of Segoe, County Armagh, and of Jane, his wife.

In 1682, Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr., and his family, accompanied by his son-in-law, Thomas Connaway, and by John Musgrave, an indented servant, sailed from Belfast for the Delaware River, arriving a few months after William Penn's arrival in the good ship "Welcome." He settled on a large plantation of nearly a thousand acres on Shelpot Creek in Brandywine Hundred, New Castle (now Del.) Co., about five miles northeast of the present city of Wilmington, and not far from Port Christian, or Christiana of the Swedes. Not long thereafter a monthly meeting was established, the sessions being mainly held at Hollingsworth's House. In 1687 he granted "unto friends for a burying place half an acre of land for ye purpose, there being already friends buried in the spot." The section in question soon became known as the "New Worke" or "New Ark," now the thriving town of Newark, Del. That Valentine Hollingsworth was a man of extraordinary ability and influence is demonstrated from the fact that almost immediately after his arrival in the New World, he was called upon to hold office and participate in public affairs. He was a member of the first Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania, shortly after William Penn's advent, that of 1682-3; also of the Grand Inquest empaneled October 25, 1683, to consider the famous case of Charles Pickering and others charged with counterfeiting. He served in several subsequent sessions of the Assembly, those of 1687, '88, '95 and 1700, from New Castle County, and was a Justice of the Peace from the same county. He was also a Signer of Penn's Great Charter and a member of the Pro-Provincial Council. He died about 1711. His second wife, Ann Calvert, died August 17, 1697. Both were buried in the old burial ground at Newark, Del., which he had presented to the Friends in 1687.

From Delaware Republican, Wilmington, Del., of May, 1848.

"Died at his residence, in Christiana Hundred, on the 15th inst., Joel Hollingsworth, in the 76th year of his age. The deceased was one of those few individuals whose characteristic trait was a contented disposition, never evincing a desire for more of this world than was sufficient for the maintenance of himself and family, in a plain and comfortable way. He possessed a degree of cheerfulness, calculated to render himself an agreeable and interesting companion to those with whom he associated. His memory was of the most retentive order, and was stored with many novel and interesting traditionary tales and anecdotes, connected with the early settlement of the Brandywine. His conversational powers were great, and he delighted in rendering himself entertaining and interesting to those around him. He retained a few acres of his forefather's estate, which he was enabled to cultivate with his own hands to the last year of his life. He leaves a legacy of good will and friendship to his large circle of friends and acquaintances.''
